For dual screen applications, this elegant polished aluminum accessory arm easily upgrades the single VF-AT to support a second monitor. Creating a highly ergonomic workspace, this strong yet sleek design provides the user with superior control over screen position. With the 2 arms independently adjustable, the additional arm can be tilted by 70° up and down panned through 180°. This allows applications in either landscape or portrait, no matter the desired position of the other screen. Holding monitors of up to 17.5lbs (8kg), the arm suits two different VESA mounting hole patterns: 75 x 75mm or 100 x 100mm
